| APPEARANCENOSE | Beautiful dark garnet with purple hues. The bouquet is precise and very intense, revealing a wide aromatic palette of ripe black fruits and spices.                                                                                                                     |
| PALATE             | The body is fleshy, creamy, and powerful. The tannins are present and plentiful, without astringency, silky and sleek. It has a beautiful fleshy tension in the mouth, with a sunny and charming style. The finish is elegant, distinguished, with a bright fruitiness. |
| AGEING             | 80% in new barrels, 20% from barrels of one vintage for 18 months.                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| PAIRING            | This wine absolutely shines with rare steak or lamb or a mushroom risotto that brought out its earthier notes.                                                                                                                                                          |
